Subject: petroleum tax

Hello,

I would like to express my support for the gas tax. I think that when properly designed it will simultaneously encourage greener forms of transportation and raise money for infrastructure projects like mass transit and bike trails. We all know that Americans pay way too little for gas, when the true costs are considered. I am a climate scientist at UC Santa Cruz and I firmly believe that radical actions are necessary to stem the threat of climate change. I also believe that bicycle and pedestrian projects should be undertaken to make our cities more liveable, sustainable, and green..

Thanks for the opportunity to make a comment on this issue.
